5. Tax questionnaire – Personal Super only

Are you claiming a tax deduction on contributions made during the financial year? Yes No

Important information for customers intending to claim a tax deduction:

If you intend to claim a tax deduction for personal superannuation contributions, you must give the Trustee notice of your intent to claim a tax deduction for super contributions. The Notice of Intent to Claim a Tax Deduction Form has been included with this form and must be lodged prior to the earlier of the;

- lodgement of your tax return for the year in which the contributions were made,
- end of the following financial year,
- before a superannuation income stream has begun to be paid based on all or part of the contributions,
- the Fund no longer holding the contributions (i.e. after exit or partial withdrawal),
- before an exist statement has been issued (whilst a member of the fund).

Please note that where a partial withdrawal or rollover is made, a tax deduction for personal contributions may only be allowed on a proportional basis. Generally, this affects personal contributions which are claimed as a tax deduction after a partial withdrawal or rollover has been made. Please see your tax or financial adviser for further information on how this may impact your circumstances.

7. Tax file number (TFN) notification

Your TFN - -

Information you should know about providing your TFN

You are not required by taxation or superannuation laws to provide your TFN to the Trustee. Your TFN is confidential and you should know the following before you decide to provide it to us:

The Trustee and any third party engaged by the Trustee to provide superannuation administration services ("third party administrator") relating to this product are authorised to collect your TFN under super laws.

If you do provide your TFN to the Trustee or third party administrator:

- they will only use the TFN for legal purposes. This includes finding or identifying your superannuation benefits where other information is insufficient and calculating tax on any superannuation payment you may be entitled to and providing information to the ATO, such as reporting details of contributions for lost member reporting and monitoring of contribution caps
- they may provide the TFN to the trustee of another superannuation fund or a Retirement Savings Account (RSA) provider that is to receive your transferred benefits in the future. However, the Trustee and third party administrator will not pass your TFN to any other fund if you tell the Trustee or third party administrator in writing that you do not want it to pass the TFN on.

However, if you do not give the Trustee or third party administrator your TFN, either now or later:

- they will not be able to accept member contributions, and you will be liable to pay additional tax on concessional contributions
- you may pay more tax on your benefits than otherwise (You may be able to get this back at the end of the financial year in your income tax assessment)
- it may be difficult to locate or amalgamate your superannuation benefits in the future.

The purposes for which the Trustee and third party administrator can use your TFN and the consequences of not providing it may change in the future if the law changes.
